

GOVERNOR WILL HAVE 20 GUESTS FOR BIG REVIEW

Army Officers, National Guard Staff and Legislators Will Have Places in Stand

Governor Pinkham has included in his list of those who will be in the reviewing stand in the capitol grounds at King and Richards street tomorrow afternoon when the 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, passes in review before the chief executive of the territory, officers of the staff of the National Guard and a number of prominent army officials and legislators. There will be 20 in the stand, among them Brigadier-General Waser, commanding the Hawaiian department.

Troops are to assemble under arms at the armory at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Lieut.-col. Riley, commanding the 1st Infantry, has ordered all men to report at company quarters at 12:30 sharp.

At 1:30 the troops will leave the armory, marching along Fort street, along Fort to Merchants, turning Waikiki into Merchant, where the line will be formed.

After the regiment is formed, the governor and his aides will ride in review of the regiment, returning to the reviewing stand.

On the governor and his aides' returning to the reviewing stand the regiment will form in column of squads and march back of the statue of Kamehameha and, executing two more changes of direction, the last of the two, being into King street, will form in column of platoons, and pass the reviewing stand. They will then return to the armory via Richards street. The 1st Infantry band will lead the regiment.

DR. HINDLEY OF HILO IS KILLED AT DARDANELLES

Dr. G. D. Hindley, who was a practicing physician at Hilo for two years before the war began, lost his life two months ago in the Dardanelles zone, when he was drowned on a British transport which struck a mine and sank, carrying hundreds to their deaths, according to official notification which has been received at Carpiwieri, Cal., by relatives.

Dr. Hindley, who lived at Santa Barbara before removing to Hilo, was an Englishman who offered his services to Great Britain soon after the war started. As an army surgeon he worked for many months on the European west front. He met his death while on a transport which was carrying British soldiers from a port in southern France to the Dardanelles, the ill-fated ship having struck a mine launched by the Turks or Germans.

OFFER SHINGLE SPACIOUS PLOTS FOR YOUNGSTERS

Whatever trouble Supervisor Robert W. Shingle, now in San Francisco, is meeting in the way of taming down landlords who insist that the Shingle children are making too much noise and disturbing other lodgers, and ask that they pack up baggage and leave, he is at least safe in the feeling that his friends at home are thinking of him.

It is said that at least 25 wireless messages have been sent out from here today to Mr. Shingle from loving friends who wish to impress the fact upon him, and advise him to come back to Hawaii. Various rooms places where Mr. Shingle can bring the children are said to have been suggested, such as Waikiki beach, Moanua park and the Koolau mountains. One man remarked on the street today that if it comes to an infraction suit over the matter Shingle will be in practice from his recent experience over a certain piece of road-work on Queen street in which he and six other supervisors were the centers of interest.

"Wyoming contingent offers arms and money.

"Pillhale, San Francisco.

"Machine gun corps Aloha patrol ready serve protection your family."

The above cablegrams were among those forwarded this morning to Shingle. Reinforcements are being hurried to the front and the first messages were forwarded this morning.

According to the latest reports from the battle line, Shingle was still on top.

SEEKS TO AVOID LATE HOURS FOR STORE WORKERS

Chairman E. A. Berndt of the Promotion Committee has started a campaign for early closing of business houses during the holiday shopping season. Mr. Berndt states that the plan has worked out successfully in San Francisco and hopes that the merchants of Honolulu will see their way clear to adopt the early closing plan.

The Chamber of Commerce will be asked to cooperate in the plan for early closing, and if the merchants will all get together in the matter, it is thought that the people will gladly do their shopping before the rush time.

Mr. Berndt's plan is to have the stores closed during the holiday season at 6 o'clock with the possible exception of five or six nights which would be ample time for those who are busy in the day time to do their shopping. In this way the clerks would not be overworked.

"NEAR BEER" BARRED IN ARIZONA TOWNS
PHOENIX, Ariz.—The sale of "near beer" was held to be a violation of Arizona's recently adopted prohibition law by the state supreme court in a decision which construed the law to bar the sale in Arizona of any beverage containing any alcohol. The decision was rendered in the appeal of L. A. Brown, convicted in the superior court of Cochise county of selling a beverage which, it was testified, contained 1 1/2 per cent alcohol.

stolen from the barracks have been sold through agents here, and while Jones is not thought to have dealt in a large way in drugs, it is almost certain that he knows the men who are handling drugs here, and that through his confession a number of others, some of them inside the big "drug ring," will be gathered into the police net.

OLD ASSESSMENTS ON CARNIVAL STOCK TO BE CALLED AT ONCE

Notice is being issued by the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Ltd., that an assessment on its capital stock will fall on December 31, but instead of being a new assessment on stock it is merely a legal step necessary for the collection of unpaid debts.

Following the close of last year's carnival it was found that some more money would have to be raised. Investigation showed that some shareholders had paid in full valuation of their capital stock, while others had not, but had paid various percentages. To make the burden equally distributed it was decided to levy a 50 per cent assessment on all. This means that those who have already paid in this percentage of assessment will be liable for nothing, those who have paid 40 per cent will be liable for a remaining 10 per cent, and so on, according to payments already made.

CLAIMS HIS DOUBLE IS MAN WHO SELLS LIQUOR

Frank Hawkins, arrested on a charge of selling liquor at "Blood Town," near Wahiawa, was acquitted yesterday in the Federal court, his own testimony that there is another colored man out there who looks so much like him they cannot be told one from the other unless they are together or being largely instrumental for the verdict.

Ralph Gonzales, now in jail for selling liquor, corroborated Hawkins' statement, saying a man named Adams, who looks like Hawkins, was selling liquor when Inspector Fennel raided the place. Search will now be made for Adams.

SECRET SERVICE MEN TRYING TO RUN DOWN DEALERS IN UNIFORMS

United States army clothing, provided by the government for the soldiers, has become so common an article of merchandise that special agents of the army secret service are on detail to watch certain parts of the town in an effort to get the men who are doing the selling.

Quantities of army clothing are said to have disappeared from the storerooms and individuals have been selling clothes freely. One alley in town where a specialty of selling clothes is made is being watched by government agents every day and vigilance is maintained so strictly that nearly every person entering the alley with a bundle is halted and the bundle searched. A number of arrests have been made by army authorities.

JEWELRY VALUED AT $4000 STOLEN FROM SAFE

"SAME OLD STORY: TOO MUCH LIQUOR CAUSE OF PILIKIA," SAYS ASHFORD

"It's the same old story," remarked Circuit Judge Ashford today as he listened to a statement by Henry Hook, an electrician in the U. S. navy, who was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon. "Fully 75 per cent of the cases represented in this court are due to intoxicating liquor. I wonder when the community will learn that the drinking of liquor to excess is almost sure to bring them into pilikia," the court added.

Judge Ashford then proceeded to fine Hook $50 and costs. The original charge against the defendant was assault with a dangerous weapon. The prosecution today reduced it to carrying a dangerous weapon, thus making the charge a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

Bids will be asked by the Southern Pacific Co. for two freight steamers to be used in the coastwise trade. The ships will be operated between Galveston and New Orleans and New York.

Oahu School Commissioners and Industrial Board Discuss Waialeale Mutiny

Three more boys implicated in the recent outbreak at the Boys' Industrial School at Waialeale were brought to the city jail today and will be taken before the juvenile court. Superintendent Tucker, who came in with the boys, said they were incorrigible.

No special action was taken at the joint meeting of the Oahu school commissioners and new industrial school board which met this morning with Superintendent H. W. Kinney in his offices, the meeting being rather one of general discussion of the condition of things at the Boys' Industrial School at Waialeale, with suggestions for remedies where needed.

Professor L. G. Blackman, principal of the Honolulu School for Boys, and a member of the school board whose administration over the industrial school ends with the close of the present year, probably struck the keynote of the discussion in the early part of the meeting when he emphasized the fact that all authority possible should be given to the principal of the Waialeale school, and that discipline should be insisted upon first, last and always.

Are There on Probation. Professor Blackman said the authority should be centralized, and that the boys should be made to feel that what the principal says must stand. They should be shown that they are there on probation, he said, and that both the ill results of misbehavior as well as the good results of good conduct should be made clear to them.

Superintendent Kinney urged the members of the new board to get acquainted with the school as early as possible. He outlined briefly the work of the school and said he felt that maybe one fault is that the territory is trying to make an orphan asylum, a penitentiary and a reform school all in one out of it. He cited various stories of hard conditions which have been circulated, by the boys evidently. Some of these he said have been utterly disproved, while some should be looked into.

Judge W. L. Whitney stated it as his belief that a large number of the boys at the school, he believed, do not do as well as they should, that they do not have to work so hard, and will get out sooner if placed in the jail. He said that this feeling which has permeated the school seems to have much to do with the discontentment among the boys.

Oppose Shackles on Boys. Practically all of the members of the board urged that the radical measure of hobbling boys with chains to keep them about the building when they had tried to run away, should be abolished. Such boys should be taken care of in some other institution than the school, they believed.

Dr. C. B. Cooper suggested the adoption of healthful outdoor games as an incentive to the boys, rather than so much hard work in the fields, and about the grounds. He also said he believes more good books should be sent to the school.

Another suggestion that met with hearty approval was that the boys of the school be allowed to use up what surplus money is made by their work in turning it back to something to make the school better. At the present time any surplus money goes into the maintenance fund.

The members of the board of industrial schools, which will take charge the first of the year are A. F. Griffiths, Dr. C. B. Cooper, Father Valentin Francis, Miss R. Taylor, Mrs. A. L. Andrews and Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, with Circuit Judge W. L. Whitney as a member ex-officio.

YEE YO KEUK GIVEN BLAME FOR ROBBERY

Another burglary, thought to have been the work of the Korean bandit Yee Yo Keuk, occurred last night when the home of L. Kohn, 1557 Fort street, was entered shortly after 9 o'clock and $3 and a black coat stolen. A cap left behind by the burglar is said to resemble a cap which the Korean wears.

Kohn and his wife were out at the time, and the robbery was discovered on their return home. The burglar effected an entrance through a window in the rear of the house. Footprints of the burglar, left in the mud outside the window, were found and measured by Detective Stein, who was sent to investigate.

TUBERCULAR SCHOOL QUESTION PUT TO HEADS OF TERRITORY

Responsibility for the erection of a school for the education of tubercular children that have been segregated from other pupils has been turned over to the territory by the city supervisors.

In response to a letter from Dr. A. N. Sinclair, superintendent of the anti-tuberculosis league, asking that the school be built, Supervisor Benjamin Hollinger last night submitted a report to his fellow supervisors which was adopted.

Hollinger's report calls attention to the fact that act 175 of the 1915 session provides $120,000 for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, and recommends that the improvements suggested by Dr. Sinclair be referred to territorial authorities, if possible.

The second dance tells of the grasses and the beauties of autumn in Japan. The Geisha girls wear their fans and dance, giving an interpretation of the waving of the grasses and the beauties of the autumn weather in Japan.
